

Imagine a world where the walls crumble, not just of prisons, but of limitations. A world where those who walked a troubled path are embraced by a community that sees not their past, but the boundless potential within.

At UMOJI, we ignite the spark of second chances. We are the bridge from a past shrouded in shadow to a future bathed in sunlight. With empathy as our compass and empowerment as our fuel, we guide individuals on a transformational journey.

WHO WE ARE

In 2020, within a Central Oregon institution, Umoja Ni Nguvu ("Strength and Unity") was born. Founded by incarcerated men, this African American Cultural Club became a beacon of hope, providing vital resources for successful reentry.

Now, the original creators, having earned their freedom, are committed to expanding Umoja Ni Nguvu's impact in the community. We're raising funds to provide crucial support to those transitioning from incarceration, including:

- Resource Navigation: Assistance with housing, employment, and education.
- Mentorship Programs: Peer support and guidance for successful reintegration.
- Community Building: Fostering a supportive network for lasting change.

Your contribution directly empowers individuals to rebuild their lives, reducing recidivism and strengthening our community. Join us in building a legacy of strength and unity. Donate today and be a part of a real second chance.

OUR VISION

OUR VISION IS A COMMUNITY WHERE EVERY INDIVIDUAL, REGARDLESS OF THEIR PAST, HAS THE OPPORTUNITY TO THRIVE. WE AIM TO BREAK THE CYCLE OF RECIDIVISM BY PROVIDING COMPREHENSIVE SUPPORT FOR SUCCESSFUL REENTRY.

- STRENGTHEN MENTORSHIP: DEVELOP A ROBUST, SCALABLE MENTORSHIP PROGRAM THAT FOSTERS LONG-TERM SUCCESS.

OUR SERVICES

Umoja Ni Nguvu: Rebuilding Lives, Strengthening Communities

Our mission extends beyond good intentions; we provide tangible support through:

- Resource Navigation: We guide individuals through the complex landscape of reentry. This includes securing stable housing, accessing job training and placement, and navigating educational opportunities.¹ We connect them with vital community services, ensuring they have the tools to rebuild their lives.
- Mentorship Programs: Our mentorship programs pair individuals with experienced peers who have successfully reintegrated into society. This provides invaluable guidance, emotional support, and practical advice, fostering accountability and building confidence.
- Community Building: We create a supportive network where individuals feel a sense of belonging. Through community events, workshops, and support groups, we foster a culture of unity and empowerment. This network becomes a vital safety net, reducing isolation and promoting long-term success.

Your support empowers us to provide these essential services, transforming lives and strengthening our community.
